

Town and Village Consider Transportation Element

Tuesday, November 4, 2003 –The Town of Black Creek Plan Commission and Village Plan Commission met this evening to consider work on the Multi-Jurisdictional Comprehensive Plan. The focus of tonight's meeting was the Transportation Element.

Amy Emery of OMNNI Associates, the Town and Village's consultant, presented a draft of the chapter to those in attendance. After reviewing general information about existing transportation features, discussion focused on the future of the STH 47 corridor, traffic concerns, and trail development.

Toward the end of the meeting the first DRAFT Transportation Network Map was presented and discussed. It was agreed that OMNNI should work with representatives from WisDOT and the ECWRPC to consider showing a future right of way on the map that may eventually accommodate a bypass route for STH 47. OMNNI will present a revised Transportation Network Map at the January 2004 Meeting. OMNNI was also directed to make several revisions to the chapter text. A revised version of the draft is posted to this web site. Additional updates will be posted as information becomes available.

The next joint meeting will be at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, December 2, 2003 at the Village Community Room – 103 Oak Street. At this meeting, the Town and Village will review the draft plan. Residents are encouraged to attend any meeting.
